

Slater, of Denver, the champion cake-walker of Colorado.

It is claimed that Joe Dockstader, the minstrel, won about $7,500 on the Corbett-McGovern fight.

Young Corbett is booked to travel on the Pacific coast for a match with his partner, Charlie McGovern, who is expected to give Corbett a good fight.

It is said that Frank Cullen, of Denver, will manage Young Corbett in the future. In case Cullen accepts the management of the new champion, John Corbett, he will have charge of Young Corbett's training.

Jack Everhard has returned from South Africa and will try to get a match with Ferns. Everhard was married in London before he sailed for home to Lizzie Daly, said to be a sister of Dan Daly, the comedian.

McGovern has announced that in the event of Young Corbett's refusing to meet him again he will begin at the bottom of the ladder again and fight any featherweight that signifies a desire to cross arms with him. It is expected that Corbett's next fight will be with Al Attel.

RUNNING RACES.

All Favorites but B. G. Fox Won at New Orleans, Dec. 7.—The card offered for the day's sport was excellent. The favorites made the most of their opportunities. B. G. Fox, which won the Magnolia stakes on the first day last Saturday and which made his first appearance as a jumper to-day, being the only one who failed to score. The stake event, the Palmetto steeple chase, furnished an excellent contest. B. G. Fox, the favorite, had much the best of his rivals between the jumps, but was much less handy when he met the obstacles. Clissando spent himself in making the running and in the final pinch Governor Boyd, an outsider, with fair support, forged to the front and landed the prize. Dominick rode three winners—winners in order: Hymeneus, 2 to 1; Omaha, 6 to 5; George Arnold, 2 to 1; Governor Boyd, 8 to 1; Felix Bard, 7 to 10; Jena, 7 to 1.

Greyfield, the Favorite, Won.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 7.—The Burlington game selling stake, at one mile and a sixteenth, was the feature of the programme at Oakland to-day. The race, which was worth $1,500, went to Greyfield, the favorite, with Buchanan in the saddle. He won driving from Bernota and Horton. In the free handicap, at seven furlongs, Autolight won a close victory over Eddie, after he had been badly interfered with by the latter and Gallatin. The other winners were: Winners in order: Hymeneus, 2 to 1; Omaha, 6 to 5; George Arnold, 2 to 1; Governor Boyd, 8 to 1; Felix Bard, 7 to 10; Jena, 7 to 1.

PRIZES FOR GOOD DOGS

VALUABLE CANNIES VIEWED BY CROWDS OF PEOPLE.

Oliver Mackey Objects Vigorously to Third Prize for His Dog—The Premium Awards.

The chicken and pigeon show on the main floor of Tomlinson Hall was almost deserted last night for the sake of the dog show upstairs. In the corridors of the building there was a large crowd all evening inspecting the bull dogs, terriers, pointers, and other breeds. A great many exhibitors had taken the precaution to put up signs above their kennels reading: "Beware, a Mean Dog," to prevent spectators from caressing and patting the animals.

Last night while the judging of the dogs was in progress the third premium was awarded to Oliver Mackey, of 15 North West street, this city, for a heavy bull dog. The boy became enraged at the action of the judges in awarding third prize and said that his exhibit was worthy of a better premium. He refused to accept the ribbon. The boy's action made but little difference with the judges, who continued looking over the remainder of the dogs. Mackey's dog is a large, white bull with one pup. It has no pedigree but shows the marks of many encounters with other canines. The boy's father was there to back up his son in his contention, the former alleging that the judges were acting unfairly in that one of them also had an exhibit of bull dogs which had drawn a better premium.

The auction of dogs, which was to have been held last night on the stage of the hall, was canceled on account of the large number of dogs to be judged. It was a late hour when the judges had partially completed their task.

Following are the awards on dogs: Fox terriers, female—Trix, first, J. C. Nestel, city; Foxey June, second, A. H. Pickett, Lexington, Ky.

Open class dogs—Harry, first, James Munro, city; Baby, second, Ed Shuleton, city.

Wire-haired fox terriers—Idlebrook, first, J. D. Hogan, Louisville, Ky.

TEMPERANCE PEOPLE'S SIDE.

Witnesses in the Fourth Ward Liquor License Case.

The temperance people began telling their side of the liquor license remonstrance against Charles Schafer to the County Commissioners yesterday, and will likely be through until the middle of this week.

The witnesses yesterday were the men who had solicited signatures for the power of attorney to remonstrate against any saloon in the Fourth ward. They all testified that they had signed the petition at the remonstrance to every one who signed, and did what they could to make each one understand the nature of the petition. The temperance people expect to be through with their testimony Tuesday night, and the argument may be finished by Saturday.

ELKS WILL NET $8,500

STATEMENT MADE BY FRED SHEPARD, AS KEEPER OF THE FUNDS.

The Event of the Closing Night Was a Visit from About Fifty Shriners.

With the last tired bark of the side-show man the Elks' "Wonderland," the most successful benefit entertainment ever given by the local lodge, came to an end. In every respect last night's show exceeded the entertainments of the past few weeks.

The crowd was larger for one thing and that meant more money for the order. More than 1,700 paid admissions were taken in at the box office, and in addition, there were many visitors who entered on passes.

There was no limit to the fun. Until long past midnight late visitors revelled within the Cyclorama building and spent their small change with good will.

The feature of the last night of the "Wonderland" was the unexpected visit of the Shriners. Led by Chalmers Brown and E. R. S. Seguin they marched fifty strong from the Scottish Rite Temple. They wore their fezzes and many were in dress clothes. They were enthusiastically received by a committee consisting of Harry Wallace, Bert Fiebman, Fred Shepard and others.

There was no abatement in the interest manifested by the public in the sideshows. People who had seen every attraction in the show early in the week cheerfully returned to see it again last night. Law-abiding citizens, however, had been told to come to the show for ten years.

The money taken in will go to pay for the furnishings of the new Elks hall. The furniture and decorations have been ordered, and it is believed that the proceeds will just about cover the cost of the hall.

To the disappointment of many, the automobile was not raffled off last night. The reason given by the Elks was that the car was not in good condition and that it was not worth the trouble of raffling it.

The Elks themselves, however, they have had a thoroughly good time and the order benefited financially, and glad the affair is over.

"If this thing were to keep up any longer I would have to get a divorce, give up my family and develop a new business," said one of the Elks, who had been in the show for some time.

HOTEL LOBBY GLEANINGS

J. M. ZION SAYS INDIANAPOLIS-LA-FAYETTE LINE WILL BE BUILT.

Exceptions Taken to the Statement of W. Bent Wilson—Other Hotel Stories of Interest.

J. M. Zion, of Clark's Hill, who is a director of the company that proposes to build an electric railway from Lafayette to Indianapolis, was in the city yesterday. He had seen in yesterday morning's Journal an interview with W. Bent Wilson, who seemed indignant, "that the prospect nevertheless is that the line will be built. The project is inspired by the farmers and business men all along the line. Besides it is a minority of merchants in Lafayette that is kicking. Most of the business men of that city and of Lebanon are broad-minded enough to understand that though the road will take business to Indianapolis it will also take business to Lafayette and Lebanon."

"It is true that Mr. Wilson and a few selfish, greedy merchants of Lafayette are opposing our scheme," said Mr. Zion, who seemed indignant, "but the prospect nevertheless is that the line will be built. The project is inspired by the farmers and business men all along the line. Besides it is a minority of merchants in Lafayette that is kicking. Most of the business men of that city and of Lebanon are broad-minded enough to understand that though the road will take business to Indianapolis it will also take business to Lafayette and Lebanon."

"The road will be the result of the poor service and exorbitant freight rates of the Big Four railroad. We will carry freight as well as passengers and will have a switch at every crossroads. We will carry live stock, too. It will be taken as far as the Belt and then carried around to the city. It is a good thing for the city. The road will be in the stockyards in time for the opening of the sale. The Big Four railroad gets the farmers' live stock to the Indianapolis stockyards in the afternoon, too late for any but the tall-end prices."

W. H. PLUMMER IN TOWN.

Growth of State of Washington Due Largely to Indiana Men.

W. H. Plummer, of Spokane, Wash., a lawyer, mine owner, and former member of the Senate of that State, is in the city to remain several days and is staying at the Hotel English. He is president of the Dixie Queen and secretary of the Northern Star Mining companies, in both of which Indian people are interested. An informal meeting was given Mr. Plummer at the Hotel English on Friday evening at which were present about fifty of the men who are associated with him in Washington and Idaho mining interests.

Said Mr. Plummer last night: "While I am not out on any advertising scheme, I will say the people of the East have a very limited knowledge of the resources of the State of Washington. The development of these immense resources has just commenced, and where the same amount of brains, tact, energy and honesty are used as in ordinary
